

Bringing tiny businesses, free agents, and the otherwise self-employed the clarity and gumption required to build and maintain a successful business.

Kristine Carey
Catalyst. Speaker. Coach.

As a result of her motivational and experiential talks, your audience will walk away with:

- A changed view of business and life from an exercise in conformity to one of freedom and creativity.
- The resources needed to achieve desired results.
- A shift in perspective from one of trade-offs to one of opportunities.
- The know-how to stop pushing and create a space for ideal work to flourish; access to more ease, fun and financial success.
- An ability to uncover the energy and motivation needed to allow business – and life – to thrive.

Kristine loves bringing her motivational message to groups and would be honored to work with yours. Her natural style translates quickly, putting audiences at ease so they can hear her message and take immediate action on what matters to them most. Audiences walk away with information and inspiration.

Bio

Kristine Carey brings enthusiasm, expertise and humor to her work. She has 14 years' experience coaching and facilitating free agents, tiny businesses, and the otherwise self-employed, empowering them to align their talents and passions with their business goals. She is a trained and Certified Coach, owner of Moxie, Inc., where she is Chief Catalyst, and the Director of Training & Licensing for Get Clients Now!™. She's a frequent speaker at entrepreneurial groups and conferences; you can learn more about her at www.kristinecarey.com.

Partial Client List

SF Earn: Conference Keynote Address
American Women in Science: Presenter
American Translators Association National Conference: Pre-conference ½ day workshop
Small Business Week: Presenter
Thriving Women in Business Symposium (TED-style day): Presenter
Mt. Diablo Professional Business Women Organization: Presenter
NAPO Organization & Leadership Development Day: Creator & Facilitator
Staged for More: Home Stager's Boot Camp: Presenter
West Valley College Leadership Development Seminar: Creator & Facilitator

Presentations

These presentations are tailored to suit your audience, or a specific presentation can be developed around what suits you and your audience best.

Discovering & Using Your Super Powers in Your Business & Work (Focuses on Super Powers)

Navigating a successful business takes skill, so set yourself up for success by learning about your Super Powers and how to use them effectively in your business and beyond! Successful business owners use their Super Powers every day, and you can, too.

In this interactive presentation, you'll:

- Learn what a Super Power is and how to discover yours.
- Understand how to use your Super Powers for good (rather than evil).
- Experience the relief and focus that comes from being in the flow of your Super Powers.

When you use your Super Powers life and business get easier. As a result of participating in this presentation, you'll leave with actionable items you can put into place right away to start thriving in your business!

Get Your Next Client (Focuses on Getting Clients)

Are you ready for more business? Would you like to learn ways to connect with your clients that are best suited to you? What if getting your next client could be easy?

This participatory presentation covers the basics of:

- Knowing what types of marketing strategies are best for you.
- Finding people who are your likely clients.
- Keeping your foot gently on the marketing gas.

Whether you're new to business or a seasoned business owner, getting clients is a necessary part of staying in business. This presentation explores several techniques to make getting your next client easier, combining marketing how-to with bigger picture concepts. You'll leave empowered with the knowledge of where to place your efforts for best results in your business and marketing.

Use Your Super Powers to Get Your Next Client (Focuses on Combining Super Powers with How to Get Clients)

Are you ready to approach the idea of getting clients from an easier perspective, one based on your Super Powers? If so, this interactive talk is for you!

- * Learn what a Super Power is and ways to discover yours
- * Learn how knowing and using your Super Powers makes getting clients easier
- * Learn what types of marketing strategies are best for you based on your Super Powers

Part nuts and bolts, part exploration, this session will leave you brimming with ideas on how to develop a marketing system that's uniquely suited to you and your strengths. You'll take home actionable items you can put into place right away, as well as homework to keep the discovery and momentum going.

Five Fabulous Characteristics of Successful Business Owners (Focuses on Your Business Leadership)

Ever wonder what makes businesses succeed? Looking at different businesses, a pattern emerges: owners of these companies share traits that allow them to be successful. Curious about what those traits are?

This informative presentation:

- Reviews five fabulous characteristics, delving into each one so you can learn more about it.
- Gives you, as the business owner, an opportunity to try on these characteristics and see which ones you find appealing.
- Sets aside time to do a gap analysis of which characteristics you currently employ and which ones you'd like to add, and brainstorm about how you might incorporate them.

This is a fun and interactive presentation, so come ready to learn, think, and expand on your success characteristics!

What Event Planners Are Saying

"I had the pleasure of working with Kristine when I invited her to participate in my Thriving Women Symposium, an all-day TED style event focusing on helping woman business owners succeed. Kristine was referred to me by a colleague who had hired her to speak at her event, and had enjoyed working with her.

During the months/weeks leading up to the event, Kristine and I worked on which speaking topics would be best for the audience and she tailored her presentation accordingly. I found her responsive and easy to work with, and the ladies who attended the symposium enjoyed her interactive presentation and message of success and inspiration. I look forward to working with Kristine again in a future opportunity."

—Caterina Rando, Thriving Women in Business and creator of the Thriving Women in Business Symposium, a day long TED style event for women business owners. <http://caterinarando.com>

"Kris Carey has a special way about her as a speaker, trainer, and coach. Her warmth and humor, combined with a powerful and intuitive knowledge base as a long-time coach to business leaders, all contribute to a listening experience that is both personally and professionally impactful. She possesses an amazing insight as to who her audience is and what they're hungering for. She can get you laughing as well as crying as she inspires you to know yourself and your business in totally new ways. Her information is hugely practical and transformational. When she speaks, people listen. She knocks it out of the park every time. I'm so glad I got her for my event! And I would have her back any time."

— Dr. Greg Nelson, speaker, author, life & leadership strengths coach, spiritual advisor. Organizer of the Brain Trust, a Mastermind Group which he hired Kristine to facilitate. <http://www.gregorynelson.com/>

I am writing this letter as a personal reference for Kristine Carey. I attended one of her classes for "Small Business Week" and found it very interesting. At the end of the class I invited her to give a similar program at the San Francisco Public Library and she accepted. She offered 2 programs for Small Business in our library and our patrons gave very positive feedback. As a skilled, knowledgeable, and professional speaker, Kristine was easily understood and all the participants, when invited, engaged in and contributed to the discussion. We were very pleased with Kristine's programs and look forward to inviting her for more in the near future.

– Pauran Lind, Librarian/Business Science & Technology. <http://sfpl.org/>

What Participants Are Saying

Very informative, well explained and dynamic.

Very easy to connect with. I enjoyed the open forum and time to adapt the topic to our own lives.

Friendly, approachable, calm, easy to understand.

Kristine has really unique and valuable content. I really enjoyed the class.

Very accessible – Kris, thank you for your expertise!

Excellent presenter! Keep her on board!!

Good examples, good resources, good materials.

Informative, interactive, engaging!

Please contact Kristine about speaking to your group!

415.952.5141

kris@kristinecarey.com